Query over Compliance and Testing of IKAR GmbH SRL's to ANSI Z359.14 Standard

To whom it may concern

I can confirm that all of the IKAR GmbH devices that claim compliance to the ANSI Z359.14 Standard and have fully tested in accordance with the standard, by SATRA Technology Centre, which is an independent European Notified Body (Test House) with ISO 17025:2005 accreditation and ANSIZ359.14 clearly on their scope. Please see the details from this link of Fall Protection Products SATRA Technology Centre can test http://www.satra.co.uk/portal/fall_protection.php . Alternatively please free to contact SATRA directly, our contact is Daniel Harrison, email danielh@satra.co.uk Telephone +44 (0)1536 410000

We are more than happy to supply independent confirmation from SATRA Technology of the testing they have carried out.

The IKAR GmbH range of SRL's with their unique design are more than capable of meeting the requirements of 'Leading Edge' testing without the need for an additional energy absorber on the end of the lifeline. IKAR GmbH was the first European fall protection manufacturer to offer a range of SRL devices tested to the VG11 European edge test, over 10 years ago, to which the ANSI Z359.14 'LE' tests are based on today.

IKAR GmbH will be exhibiting at the National Safety Council Exhibition in Anaheim, California 17th – 19th October 2016. I will be at our Booth on Monday and Tuesday 17th & 18th should you be able to come and visit to discuss further. At this time I would also be happy to show you the internal breaking mechanism along with an explanation of how it works.
